You, you're an emotional landmine
Always searchin' for a website
Tryin' to find advice to get by

The spiritual switchboard callin'
You can find yourself fallin',
Climbin' and crawlin' to reply

Even though the sun is shining
You don't embrace it 'cos it's blinding

Don't you know you're worth your weight in gold
Make your move before you get too old
Give it all until you reach your goal
Learn to know you're worth your weight in gold

You can find the secret of perfection
It can loom around the corner
Tellin' you, you lack some kinda flaw

Try to find yourself amongst the livin'
Give some takin', take some givin'
Or you'll face another shut door

Even though the sun is shining
You don't embrace it 'cos it's blinding

Don't you know you're worth your weight in gold
Make your move before you get too old
Give it all until you reach your goal
Learn to know you're worth your weight in gold
