

Hans York

"Invocation"

Visit "Invocation" on MotoLyrics.com

Invocation
(Hans York / Evo Bluestein)

A lot of friction, little action, ready to submit A predilection for distraction really ought to quit
This situation, a meditation, music unlocks my mind

Inspiration, invocation, rhythm stops time.

What I need in every dimension feels like a brand new start Taking a leap with no apprehension, love is food for the heart Without the guilt and all the sadness and feeling that we've been tossed All that we built without the madness looking for something we've lost

Inspiration, Invocation, Invitation

Walk into temptation, a sensation we can't resist Dropping inhibition, opportunities we've missed, we thought we had the perfect match, weren't watching, then our lines got crossed Couldn't see the hidden catch looking for something we've lost

Inspiration, Invocation, Invitation
Inspiration, Invocation, Invitation

Visit Hans York page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.