Tell me why (Hans York/Palle Hasling Jacobsen)

Tell my why all rainbows I see are gray and black
Tell me why the highway is just a single track
Tell my why a minute alone feels like a year
Tell me why your voice and laugh is all I hear

You say, you say, you say that I'm in love

Tell me why I feel the world is upside down
Tell me why a whisper makes the loudest sound
Tell me why the sunshine leaves me in the dark
Tell me why the simple things become so hard

You say, you say, you say that I'm in love

So simple and yet so complex
Like a puzzle what comes next

Tell my why the sky I see is bright and clear
Tell me why the flowers beauty is so dear
Tell my why the mystery has become unfold
Tell me why your voice and laugh touches my soul

You say, you say, you say that I'm in love
You say, you say, you say that I'm in love
