Amelia was always the one for me but she, she wouldn't stay
On a warm day, I came home to find that she had sailed away
Maybe I am broken, in some way I can tell I don't wanna change but Lord knows that I need some help
To save me from myself

Cecilia with flowers in her hair was like the sun, brought me the light
And I can't tell you for the life of me why I would choose to let it burn out
I wish I was numb, alone here in my cell Something in my heart is making me not feel so well Won't you save me from myself

I get no sleep 'cause I'm all alone
Like a living shadow where there once was bone
One cut deep and the other went sour
And no one's to blame but I feel so shattered Maybe I am lying still inside my shell 'Cause I keep making waves and falling victim to the spell
Will you save me from myself?

'Cause I like you for myself
Will you save me from myself?
