Ughts of you on top of her are running through her head.
A father's to protect and care, a father's to trust.
But evil lies in the father's eyes that are filled with lust.

Please leave me alone.
Daddy knows what's best for you so just do what your told.
Please leave me alone.
Daddy knows what's best for you so just do what your told.

You took it all away from her. She'll never get it back.
Her innocence, her youth, are all now warped and cracked.
How will she find piece of mind, how will she know love.
When in the darkest corner of her mind it's you she's thinking of.

Please leave me alone.
Daddy knows what's best for you so just do what your told.
Please leave me alone.
Daddy knows what's best for you so just do what your told.
Please leave me alone.
You know daddy loves you, you're my little girl.
Please leave me alone.
Mommy will get mad at you so just don't say a word,
Please.
