Who rocked the boat and let all the water
Come a tumbelin' to the floor?
We're all in the mood for some movement
But our ankles are gettin' sore

Though we can't hold back
We must break loose
And keep the people rockin'
All night long

Lift it up please
Raise your knees
Because the elephant walk is on

Crane your neck and lower your head
And keep it swingin' from left to right
(Get on the floor)
Turn out your feet 45 degrees
And bend your knees till it's feelin' light
Har Mar

It's hard for me to identify normality or reality
In a world that is so full of surrealism is there a prism
My vision is dependent on to decide
Whether what I see is fantasy or fact
Let me tell you, I wonder

I saw a man on the other side of the dance floor
Gettin' down
He moved from left to right like I never seen before
As his head hung towards the ground

I said
What you call that dance young man some kinda glide?
He said, no, it's more like a walk
It's the elephant walk, go ahead and try

Crane your neck and lower your head
Turn out your feet 45 degrees
And bend your knees till it's feelin' light

Elephant walkin', pertinent talkin'
Permanent fixtures twist your knot
Raise those knees 90 degrees
Impressions left and metcha needs

For Clark and Har Mar, angels sing
Turn to fiends and cream your jeans
We like that movement
Keep it groovin' work 'em side to side

You wonder why we rock so fly
It's all just part of life
We bring the meanin's that keep ringin'
Deep inside your mind

Saturate your party place
With licks that hit like kind
We are the best so lose that dress
It's Har Mar Clarkin' time

It's Har Mar Clarkin' time
Who put the beat in the bathtub?
