Here's the truth to you my friend Every time I'm closing in Any time I hear your voice Any time I call you my home

Nobody can never ever erase what you have done,
what you have done for me Nobody can ever replace everything you've ever been
to me

Somehow can you understand I'm still here to hold you're hand
And I promise you for sure That together we'll never grow old No together we will never grow old I'll remain here with you alone

Nobody can never ever erase what you have done,
what you have done for me
Nobody can ever replace everything you've ever been
to me
Nobody can never ever erase what you have done,
what you have done for me
Nobody can ever replace everything you've ever been
to me, Lord
