Looking down on others, think it makes you cool everybody around you knows you're just another fool acting like an asshole, think you're so smart but with things that you've got wrong i dont know where to start racist, sexist, homophobe, wake up to yourself somethings messed up in your brain, your in need of help

how people like you still exist i cant comprehend just shut up cos you drive everyne around the bend i've had enough, im calling you out for the last time, youre talked about your stupid views and opinions to me without a response you'll see
