Souls have lost their way
Looking to hide a dark side
Every time we look inside
The lines are drawn in vein
In your mind, it's alright
We're all the same, everyday day we're...

Trying to outrun
The demon's we've become
It's something that we'll never change

It's only human nature
That could tear us apart
It's only human nature
To write the ending before the start

Here in the hands of fate
Without a rhyme or reason
We see the signs, we decide
To look the other way
And live in a lie, it's alright
We're all the same, everyday day we're...

Trying to outrun
The demon's we've become
It's something that we'll never change

It's only human nature
That could tear us apart
It's only human nature
To write the ending before the start

Everyday we're trying to fight who we are
But in the end it doesn't matter at all
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah...

It's only human nature
That could tear us apart
It's only human nature
To write the ending before the start

It's only human nature
That could tear us apart
It's only human nature
To write the ending before the start

It's only human nature..
Human nature...
