Time will abuse you
It's gotten so bad so bad
Won't do what you wanna
And keeps you searching
For the midnight sun
That's been long dead and gone
So you throw away the noose
That's been holding you down
Watching your back
Maybe we're caught up in the lies
But we're holding on
Yeah we're holding on
We're so far across the line
Even we don't know why we're holding on
You're never moving
Cause you're on it and off it
You're going nowhere
Cause you're searching
For the midnight sun
That's been long dead and gone
So you throw away the noose
That's been holding you down
Watching your back
They come and go
It's easier I find
When you've found the one
Maybe we're caught up in the lies
But we're holding on
Yeah we're holding on
We're so far across the line
