Everyday it's the same old thing
I never thought it could get me down
I'm in search of the perfect world
And I'll be searching until it's found
I get the feeling I'll be awhile
The roads to nowhere lead to mornings where I don't know where I'll be
Out Of Love out of danger
So now anyway you want
I guess that's how it'll be Finding love is a stranger
So now anyway you want it
It just don't matter to me
I would do almost anything
If I thought it would help me now
I just want to forget mistakes
But just wanting won't show me how
All the nights that I hold so dear
Still living in those times
Wishing this were reality
No conscience by my side
I realize my life could have been much more
I'm thinking of closing my eyes
Never to see my world alive anymore
