Taking the good and the bad, taking it all in stride
I'm paying more than my share to keep it all alive

The sun's going down
And I feel the cold again
The world lets you down
What can I do?

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign
To show me where I belong

Lately the world moves too fast, I can't keep it all aligned
Shaking and roaring off the tracks, delusion in overdrive

The sun's going down
And I feel the cold again
The world lets you down
What can I do?

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign
To show me where I belong

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign
To show me where I belong

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign
To show me where I belong

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign

To show me where I belong

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign
To show me where I belong

I've been looking for starlight
Finding my way through the dark
I've been looking for a sign
To show me where I belong
