Looking back to find
What went wrong this time

We're falling to pieces
We fall out of line
We fall into holes
In empty times

I will try to understand you
I will turn this all around
The world grows colder, I'm your shoulder
I will turn this all around

I can't find myself
And you were lost as well

We're falling to pieces
We fall out of line
We fall into holes
In empty times

I will try to understand you
I will turn this all around
The world grows colder, I'm your shoulder
I will turn this all around

I will try to understand you
I will turn this all around
The world grows colder, I'm your shoulder
I will turn this all around

You never wait on a miracle
Got nothing to lose and everything to gain

I will try to understand you
I will turn this all around
The world grows colder, I'm your shoulder
I will turn this all around

I will try to understand you
I will turn this all around

The world grows colder, I'm your shoulder
I will turn this all around

Understand you...
Understand you...
Understand you...
Understand you...
