(Harlan Howard)

Don't worry bout me anymore I've got my future plan I found the way to rid my mind of mem'ries I can't stand I'll lose the heartache you gave me no matter what the cost
From this day on my friends will be the legion of the lost.

I'll join the ranks of those who go through this world second class
Who watch the world go by them through the bottom of a glass
Where broken hearts are comin' place for there all losers do
I'll join the legion of the lost till I stop loving you.

I thought you love me and my heart was busy making plans
But then he came along and took my future off my hands
I've packed my dreams I'm on my way to Heartache Avenue
I'll join the legion of the lost till I stop loving you...
