

Harmful "Refuse To Shine"

Is there a place where i consider... if something is worth it or not

Disastrous smile that follows my ego It tries to change my point of view

This world begins to look like pieces of bones you dropped in my lap again Refuse to shine...

That's how it is You gonna relapse if you don't find...

High above the noise you made you thought if you got caught we'd all go away... 'cause you're
the one who's to blame

To go this way is not that easy The truth is I never thought my excuses could fail Give us a try for the second or third time

You might like it more than you think right now

That's how it is You gonna relapse if you don't

Refuse to shine...
