Headin' out this morning with plans to stay awhile
It's hard to leave familiar things, I see again in time
I live out of a suitcase, the road I can't deny
I risk it all and if I fall, I'll take it all in stride

A voice is callin' out, showin' me the way
There's no room for doubt, the price I've gotta pay

Every highway, traveling miles and miles
Searching for the road that leads to you
Do it my way, leaving love behind
Try to find the road that leads to you

Meeting lots of people, shake a lot of hands
Feeling strange and the truth remains, it's so hard to find a friend
I ask the same old question and get the same reply
It forever seems I'll chase that dream until the day I die

Home, I'll find somehow with pictures in my head
I just won't think about the words I left unsaid

Every highway, traveling miles and miles
I'm searching for the road that leads to you
Do it my way, leaving love behind
Try to find the road that leads to you, oh yeah

Oh home, I'll find somehow with pictures in my head
And God be with me now until I reach the end

Every highway, traveling miles and miles
Searching for the road that leads to you
Do it my way, leaving love behind
Try to find the road that leads to you, yeah, oh

Every highway, traveling miles and miles
I'm searching for that road that leads to you
