I'm a rabbit on fire
on fire with masked eyes I'm a white rat acquired by the lab
I'm due to be shot
shot with experiment
waiting in line
for the next stab
I've got nowhere to run to
I've got nowhere to go
and no way of telling you
that none of you know
I burn in hellfire
kept alive in my deathbed I'm a monkey with wire
in my head
I can't touch my face
rub my eyes or hear anything
suspended twixt
living and dead
they say I don't know
but I live under pressure
showing great symptoms
of breakdown and fracture
that none of you know
If I (RH) had my way
I'd be in there today
turn the voltage on you
burn you down
with the whole of your school with your lessons on how to dismiss others' feelings while feeling that you're always ever so kind

never cruel
but that's you
only you
of all us creatures on earth

that could only be you
if only you cared
not to kill not to torture
not to need to cause pain
fear and suffering
to be cool
you'd have all the friends
and the ends and the means to live with the give
and the fox in the glove (the atmosphere)
on this jewel (the planet)
you're the mournful red eye
of the dog in the cage
the howl of despair
from the pound
forsaken forgotten
the live definition
the sad lonely meaning
of hound
and you've got nowhere to run to nowhere to go
and no way of telling me
that this isn't so
for some of us know,
and will always care to do so
