Well goodness is it really real
It would take a baby child to know the way I feel
On my flutter in the blue
I would take the credit but it's thanks to you
Ooh yeah I'm a sinner and
I ain't some beginner
I'll uncork a pint of trouble
Sit down and drink a double
I'm thirsty for somethin' lighter
That'll get me even tighter
And tighter until one day
I think I hear angels play
Well goodness is it really real
It would take a baby child to know the way I feel
On my flutter in the blue
I would take the credit but it's thanks to you
Now someday up in glory
Well I'll weep and tell the story
To someone who will smile and say
You're a mess but you're my child
Goodness is it real

It would take a baby child to know the way I feel

On my flutter in the blue

I would take the credit but it's thanks to you

Now someday up in glory

Well I'll weep and tell the story

To someone who will smile and say

You're a mess but you're my child

Goodness is it real

It would take a baby child to know the way I feel

On my flutter in the blue

I would take the credit but it's thanks to you
