(Verse)

Not every man can build his dream house
Not every man has big words to say
Able men keep this world turnin'
For the rest of us making our way

(Verse)

Not every man can write a love song
To sing to the one that he holds so true
There are things a man can try learning
There are things he should know how to do

(Chorus)

Every man should know how to love her
Every man should know how to care
Every man should recognize what she's saying with
her eyes
And help with her burdens to bear

(Verse)

Not every man can be the hero
And ride to the sun when he is through
But it's not the hero returning
At the end of the work day to you

(Chorus)

Every man should know how to love her
Every man should know how to care
Every man should recognize what she's saying with
her eyes
And help with her burdens to bear

(Bridge)

Sunsets make way for the evening sky
Nighttime makes room for the day
Treasure her love 'til the day you die
And never give it away

(Chorus)

Every man should know how to love her
Every man should know how to care

Every man should recognize what she's saying with
her eyes
And help with her burdens to bear

Oh every man should know how to care
