One, word!

(Â...and I will try for you,
With my heart on my sleeve and I can only hope
That for me, you careÂ...)
LibraryÂ's feeling so cold
Your glow could warm this room
My eyes roll, to the seat
The chair where you once sat
The look in your eyes once said
You needed to save you
This year just slipped behind us
Still not one spoken word

One, word!

(YouÂ're the one whoÂ'll make me complete
Only you can put my pain to sleep)

(All I can see is yourÂ...
Shadow standing close to meÂ...
So beautiful, standing perfect.)
I need you, to know that
Your stare cuts me like glass
So drop the axe on my heart
donÂ't need this anyway
ItÂ's taken me this whole time
To realize your deception
Comprehending your calculation
Keeps me, up all night long

One, word!

(YouÂ're the one whoÂ'll make me complete
Only you can put my pain to sleep)

Please shut your eyes
DonÂ't make me dig out my own.
One, word!

ItÂ's all I ask of youÂ...
