Say down where I'm born in no white boy's never done that dance
They play their music, they wear their funky underpants They wear that lipstick and then they're shakin' their asses at those girls
With the pretty music
Those pretty boys got pretty, pretty, pretty girls
Come and dance with me, check my pants you'll see My bathroom is a funky kind of ghetto
I don't got no lipstick, I don't got no hot pink underwear
I live like a caveman, I got my greasy long brown hair
I got some women, they ain't too beautiful or thin

But they appease me
I don't need no beauty queen to sing

One thousand times it's just strolling by
And every step adds an empty sigh
My days are full of nothing new
I wish my eyes, they'd look beyond you
