Understand, there's always a chain that keeps you So baby nothing's gonna change here even if I turn the volume louder than you right now
Behind the thin line
Would you share tonight with me, here anybody knows about the things that they should know There're times when the hill you climb is a mountain Anybody knows about the things that they should know â€¦
Till the top of the highest skies
I'm sure that none saw you looking for those times we've left behind
That's why there are swords, stronger than chains
Its all the same baby we'll leave this place without a reason why
That's why we have learned to fly Here anybody knows about the things that they should know â€¦
My hart always keeps on beating, but nobody knows

Some attraction some fear that tides me
Into a spacecar, we get free just for a while I swear I'll learn to pretend
Into a spacecar, we get free just for a while We both made a scene, you wrote down my dreams
Braking all my bones I'll sayâ€¦ Grown like a cannibal, and suddenly he started to getting old like this

With all he won, and all he took It's our blue dayâ€¦ through it all, and in spite of all

It's our dreamed day, so what about youâ€¦
Nothing I gave is lost is just being used by other hands

Nothing I did was wrong but just doesn't seems to be the better way
Clock has stopped giving me time to take you

Far away from here
Into a spacecar, we get free just for a while Mouth and skin never knew the boundaries

Into a spacecar, we dream about movies and stars
Of all we can do tonight
Into a spacecar, we drive our lives through this life
Cause all the wind here, blew all my dreams
Into a spacecar, maybe it has name at last Take this part of me, Carrie it for me

None see us right now, let me show you the way
Not a word just the sound of this old roomâ€¦
