Don't go Mr. sadman
Don't have to cry no more
Pain comes from the hart
And this is not a place for harts
If she left tears on her pillow
Don't tell me I did not right
If you will ask me for love
This is not a place for love

Mr. sadman then came He had to dance all alone, through the darkness and cold
Mr. sadman brought pain

cold

And I don't want to remember
All those words you used to say
I know you'll find yourself there, at the end of endless road

I would like to rememberÂ...all those words you never said
This is how here explodes my head, I'll burn
I know you'll find yourself there
