

Hastatus "The River"

Visit "The River" on MotoLyrics.com

Michelle gave me a gift for the pain, but she doesn't know how it turns
Came like wind without noise, to cover my eyes and my voice
So tonightÂ...
So tonightÂ...
Give me the strength of the stone, cause there's only one way to go
Talk to me about monkeys and rain, slowly it turns me insane
Lie to yourself for a while, trying a smile, dark inside Climbing long stairs but why, you never tried
To do it well on the ground
On the groundÂ...

Let yourself go, with the flood, down the river
I should not cry, or ask why, this river takes you down

Under the moon you don't have to wait
Cause she will never go back
All in this world still being the same cause none seems to care

All in this world needs a reason why to be logical
To be wonderful to your mind
All we have already heard teach us how to forget Â...I wouldn't have to wait no more Wait no more

And now that I'm gone, you'll be fine, I'll be fine
Drowning on the earth, while I drink this wine
So would you be there, when this time passes away!!

Let yourself go, with the flood, down the river
I should not cry, or ask why, this river takes you down
Let this candle melt, like my soul, for another I should not cry because I know why, this river takes you down
You didn't understand at allÂ...

Visit Hastatus page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
