Ive been down, helpless, still.
I come here once again, feelings lost,
Extinction of what used to be,
Dwelling keeps me from standing on my own.
Selfless dissection of emotion,
Emotion i have left inside dredge this wound,
Salt of tears, then i fade away,
Slips away and fades raising eyes to see you,
Anger is all i feel, missed your forgiveness,
Just a witness of my own demise, searching these pieces,
They cut me, you laugh as i bleed, swallow contradiction,
Just a victim of all i have inside this pain just deepens,
I can never let go, feel it numbing me, exist around you,
Everything i know, ive held myself down to,
Held myself down so that i will never fall,
All of this i feel i pour out for you, salvation,
In the release of all that i feel
