"No More Summer"

well in the middle of the afternoon I wanna take you on a drunken binge cruise Driving country roads with the dust and the breeze sun beatin down hey would you pass me a cool one please

yeah no time to lose when you got no booze there's no more wind in your hair there's no more days at the fair there's no more summer left anymore....

well down in the bayou south of New Orleans there lives a man who likes to do as he pleases he was raised in the country now the city he calls home and when he plays his guitar the girls start to groan yeah no booze is bad news when you got the blues there's more days at the beach there's no more waves out of reach there's no more summer left anymore.....
