Sisters joined at the hip
Throats choking on a kiss
Legs splayed- penetrated by a bar through the ribs
Spinning till they hit the ground- undaunted
Dancing while the blood runs out
You watch them dance, pretty marionettes
Mouths open wide so their tongues can attach Gracefully curved, while hinged at the knee

Malvolent in their symphony
I know you think it's sweet
How they fall to their knees
When the needles go through
How they die just for you
Spinning till they hit the ground, undaunted
Laughing as the blood runs out
You watch them
