

Hatebreed

"The Divinity Of Purpose"

Visit "The Divinity Of Purpose" on MotoLyrics.com

When the odds were stacked against
I needed someone by my side
And when the world left no place for me
I needed someone by my side

And when the skies crashed down upon me
I looked for someone by my side
You were there when no one else was
You showed me what's born doesn't always die

You showed me what's born doesn't always die

Divinity
The divinity of purpose
This is my divinity
The divinity of purpose

For the way into my thoughts
I've always thought true outrage
Follow me with feet to edge
And help me step away
Follow me with just a whisper left
And turning into screams
Like giving on my weakest stage
You helped me find the strength

When the odds were stacked against
I needed someone by my side
And when the world left no place for me
I needed someone by my side

And when the skies crashed down upon me
I looked for someone by my side
You were there when no one else was
You showed me what's born doesn't always die

Now it's the divinity
The divinity of purpose

I heard the message about the scourge
And at least you're hanging with me

Felt the pain of discipline
What's worse than doubt of regret?
Left me with foot full to climb
When the purpose showed its face
I gave it on my weakest days
You helped me find the strife

When the odds were stacked against
I needed someone by my side
And when the world left no place for me
I needed someone by my side

And when the skies crashed down upon me
I looked for someone by my side
You were there when no one else was
You showed me what's born doesn't always die

Divinity
The divinity of purpose
This is my divinity
The divinity of purpose

Visit Hatebreed page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.