I won't say anything, 'cause I don't mean it
Won't make a promise 'cause I won't keep it
Believe me now, I'd only lie to you

Well, I've said that thought a thousand times
I believe in something that I can't find
So believe me now, I'd only lie to you

Now won't you say something?
Please say something
And believe me now, I'd only lie to you

I spend my time collecting all these scars
And I know I'm lyin' on the truth that's in your charm
I hope down inside, I can't be what I'm not

Well, I've said that thought a thousand times
I believe in something that I can't find
So believe me now, I'd only lie to you

Now won't you say something?
Please say something
And believe me now, I'd only lie to you

Now won't you say something?
Please say something
And believe me now, I'd only lie to you
And believe me now, I'd only lie to you
