(1-2-3-4!)

Twenty years have past, come and gone so fast,
nothin's gettin better, nothin seems to last,
but the rebellion I live for still stands strong, and it'll still be here even after I'm gone, if you think it'll die, you better think again, if you're that stupid then we don't need your opinion.

A casuse for rebellion, lets break the rules
a cause for me and you,
a reason to deeat the enemy,
the only thing to do.

It's time for a change, it's time to break away, it's long overdue, our rebellion is just beginning, it's nowhere near being through, so don't try and hold us back, 'cause you'll get knocked down,
we don't let anyone push us around.

A casuse for rebellion, lets break the rules
a cause for me and you,
a reason to deeat the enemy,
the only thing to do.

So,
you better back off or you'll wish you had,
you haven't even come close to seein me mad, if you think I'll budge then you've made a mistake, just try testin me, that's all it'll take,
before you find yourself down on the floor, and you won't be gettin up, that's for sure, before you make your first move, you better think twice,
you better take my advice.

GO!!!
