Prime evil!

In human form will never die, yet was never born

Descending! On doom we ride

All fingers point towards genocide

Abominations in a world of sin

Evil spell is cast from the hell within

Domination of unholy ways

Those with the faith have now gone astray

Uttering words from a sacred book

Some feel these sins will be overlooked

Self-righteous fools wear the mask of god

Others too blind to see through their facade

False prophets speak in a twisted tongue

Obtained victims at an age so young

Brainwashing of the innocent ones

Realizing too late that the damage is done

Seasons of pain as we try and obtain world peace

Living in hell each day while murderers walk the streets

Our leaders too blind to see what's best for you and me

Hole in the sky causing death to our oceans and tress

Not much time left to repent our sins

Famine's rampant time and time again

Plague and disease are burning out of control

Millions are dropping, finally, death takes its toll...

All that is evil. Deep within the soul of man

All that is evil. Taking mankind by the hand

World full of hatred!

I think we've got to find a way to dispel the evil

If things don't change we'll never be the same...

Why does it have no end?

It seems to be starting once again

Spiralling to the point of no return

What once was good has done bad

Try to find the life I had

Before the vil came to take my soul...

Seasons of pain...

Your mind begins to work in sickened ways
Finally realize that you have been possessed by the evil!

All that is evil!...

All that is evil!...
