Chapter 1, here's my story
Probably not the one you wanna hear
My world was spinning round and round
Until my hopes they hit the ground
Feels like I've disappeared

I kept it hidden in my secrets
My lies became a blur over time
I was just too blind to see
The truth was staring back at me
Love is not a controlling hand

Oh, I'm giving up my secrets, I'm giving up my faults
Telling you I'm empty, should have know all along
It's taken me my whole life to realize I'm wrong
I'm giving up my secrets, I'm done holding on
I'm done holding on

Staring backwards like a mirror
At someone I can barely see
The shadows of my past regrets
They disappear like silhouettes
The son has come, I wanna be free

Oh, I'm giving up my secrets, I'm giving up my faults
Telling you I'm empty, should have know all along
It's taken me my whole life to realize I'm wrong

I'm giving up my secrets, I'm giving up my faults
Telling you I'm empty, should have know all along
It's taken me my whole life to realize I'm wrong
I'm giving up my secrets, I'm done holding on
Done holding on, done holding on
