yeah, come on, yeah.

It's too late for me, I look right back at her,

and I offer her my heart,

she said she'd take it off, to a place she called unknown.

Deep inside I felt this feeling that it's nothing like her home.

She feels confused at times, and she is alone alone.

Have all my questions been ignored, (today)

What am I living this life for?

Today I'll find you, out on the freeway,

Don't know where I'm going, or where I'll end up today.

or where I'll end up today, yeah.

What are you, What are you waiting for?

You thought you'd ask for so much more,

Well, I see the rode you've chosen, I see all of what you've done.

You've ran for far too long now, It's time you must decide.

It's time you must decide.

Have all my questions been ignored, (today)

What am I living this life for?

Today I'll find you, out on the freeway,

Don't know where I'm going, or where I'll end up today.

Tomorrow, is better than nothing, Well I'm telling you something,

You won't do it again.

Last night was a huge disaster, my life is ending faster,

Someone come take me away,

Have all my questions been ignored, (today)

What am I living this life for?

Today I'll find you, out on the freeway,

Don't know where I'm going, or where I'll end up today.

Tomorrow, is better than nothing, Well I'm telling you something

You might do it again, find you, out on the freeway,

Don't know where I'm going, or where I'll end up today.

Tomorrow, is better than nothing, is better than nothing.

Is better than nothing, oh, is better than nothing.

Is better than nothing, so much better than nothing,

oh, yeah, it's better than nothing,
