I lost myself again today
I'm not sure if I care
There's always someone standing in my way
As they stop, as they stop and stare

Stop dragging my life around
Stop talking behind my back
I lost myself again today
And I don't care

Here I am, listen to me now
Here I stand, I won't let you tear me down
I don't wanna live so far underground
So here I am and now you're on your own

I fought the world and lost today
I need a place to call my own
I met myself along the way
I found the road that takes me home

Here I am, listen to me now
Here I stand, I won't let you tear me down
I don't wanna live so far underground
I know I'm lost but can't be found
So here I am and now you're on your own

Where is the life you said I had so far in front of me?
I lost my way when you said I could be anything
Here I am and I'm still waiting
Here I am until you let me go

I lost myself again today
I'm not sure if I care
There's always someone standing in my way

Here I am, listen to me now
Here I stand, I won't let you tear me down
I don't wanna live so far underground
I know I'm lost but can't be found
Here I am, and you're still all alone

Here I am, listen to me now

Here I am and I'm still waiting
Here I am and now you're all alone
