Is this what you wanted? I'm falling apart
Is this what you needed? For your selfish heart
A ship without an anchor, holding me back
A car without a driver, a train off the tracks

If it helps you sleep at night, it must be the way to go Don't let it eat you up inside, there's hope in a tomorrow
If it helps keep you afloat, it must be the way to go Give yourself something to hide behind when you're hanging from that rope

Is this what you wanted? I'm falling apart
Is this what you needed? For your selfish heart
A ship without an anchor, holding me back
A car without a driver, a train off the tracks

There's a tunnel and a light, passed the fork in the road
From the darkness to the other side, there's no one left to follow
If it helps you sleep at night, watch the landscape out the window
Another overnight weary drive, into the welcoming unknown

Is this what you wanted? I'm falling apart
Is this what you needed? For your selfish heart
A ship without an anchor, holding me back
A car without a driver, a train off the tracks

Is this what you wanted?

Is this what you wanted? I'm falling apart
Is this what you needed? For your selfish heart
A ship without an anchor, holding me back
A car without a driver, a train off the tracks
