All I need is to hear your voice and
You're Juliet and I'm just your poison
Slowly sinking in
I'm just your means to an end
All I want is to be the one to scratch
These words down on the pavement
Let the whole world know
It was time for us to go
Where am I going and where have I been?
The beginning of the end

This is the summer when I get my life together
If I, I come home empty handed
I know you'll understand that I
I know I'm always working,
Cross my heart
I'm always searching
I try not to leave you there
I am so unforgivable

All I need is, I have to hear you
Real me in and you disappear
You left me on my own
This is how it feels to be alone
All I have are words and paper
I wrote her down and then erased her
Afraid to show myself
I'm not sure of how I felt
Where am I going and where have I been?
The beginning of the end

This is the summer when I get my life together
If I, I come home empty handed
I know you'll understand that I
I know I'm always working,
Cross my heart
I'm always searching
I try not to leave you there
I am so unforgivable

All we are, are
Ticking clocks

Keeping track
Of time that's lost(x2)

All we are, are
Ticking clocks(x2)

All we are, are
Ticking clocks
Keeping track
Of time that's lost

All we are, are
Ticking clocks(x2)

This is the summer when I get my life together
If I, I come home empty handed
I know you'll understand that I
I know I'm always working, Cross my heart
I'm always searching
I try not to leave you there
I am so unforgivable
