

Hawthorne Heights "Watching And Waiting"

It's hard to believe your alone when you're dead
It's cold and dark when rivers flow red

I'm watching and waiting for everything to fall into place
I'm watching and waiting for one more chance to see your face

I'm still alive even though you tried
To cut me down in size to prove you were right! x2

Lights like tonight I remember your eyes
A slow hollow stare like you knew you were going to die

I'm watching and waiting for everything to fall into
place
I'm watching and waiting for one more chance to see
your face

I'm still alive even though you tried
To cut me down in size to prove you were right! x2

It's hard to believe your alone when you're dead (hard to believe)
It's cold and dark when rivers flow red (rivers flow red) x 2

It's hard to believe your alone when you're dead
It's cold and dark when rivers flow red x4

I'm still alive even though you tried
To cut me down in size to prove you were right! x2
