took you round the back,
picked a flower for your hand
to hold.
careful as the wind blows.
we rented movies and then we watched things that made us laugh and talk.

you taught me things about myself
a lot of things i hadn't felt.

we talked about a winter trip somewhere that doesn't look like where we are.
not like where we are.
anywhere but where we are.

i feel your warmth inside of me
you are lying right beside me.
my hand is touching yours,
our feet are sticking out of the covers.
out of the covers.

i feel your warm breath on my neck.
i feel that i'm starting to drift.
starting to drift.
