You are all I have
You are all I have
You are all I have

If you go away, I don't think I will survive
I'll wait outside the front door till you arrive
The light of day will shine inside your eyes
Inside your eyes I'll see me there by your side

Am I all you have
Am I all you have
Am I all you have

If I go away I know that you will survive
You're stronger than I had just realised
You won't be outside the door till I arrive
The light of day will shine inside your eyes
