I got the feeling when I looked at you tonight
That you've given up trying
Have you left it up to me
To be the one to keep our love from dying
If I could I'd take you in my arms
And bring us back to being close
But how can I hold you
If you're letting go.

I won't pretend I've got the answers figured out
But I can't stop believing
Hanging on to what we got
Is still a better way to go than leaving
I'd do anything to make you stay
But I can't do it all alone
How can I hold you
If you're letting go.

So please don't let this be the end
Hold out some hope that we can try again.

--- Instrumental ---

I'd do anything to make you stay
But I can't do it all alone
How can I hold you
If you're letting go.

How can I hold you
If you're letting go?...
