"Hot Girls"

Making the most of the time that you have
Has never been easy,
But you're getting better.
I know, I know.

Doing your best is enough
If you don't know your potential.
With no expectations
you can't go wrong.

I tried to warn you, but it looks like I was wrong.
So I'm glad you weren't home.
so you did not hear the phone.

Now you're up against it,
Time is running out,
And your little lady wants a car and a house.
Style is taking over.
Everybody knows the songs are on their way out.

I tried to warn you, but it looks like I was wrong.
I called to beg you not to write that stupid song.
But as it happens now it's burning up the charts
And breaking hot girls' hearts
As it masquerades as art.
