Written by Kennedy / Woodcock / Hear'Say

Oh oh
I heard a whisper that touched deep inside my soul
Like some familiar melody
A hidden chapter from a story left untold
I gotta feeling, I could believe in

There is an angel in my heart
Feels like I'm guided by a candle in the dark
It's taken all this time
To finally find out what I could never see
You were there for me
Now there is no doubt that there will always be
An angel in my heart

You were the friend, you were the one I could confide in
You gave me strength that I could never find
Deep emotions that I've always been denyin'
I believe in, it's so close now it's you that I'm feeling

There is an angel in my heart
Feels like I'm guided by a candle in the dark
It's taken all this time
To finally find out what I could never see
You were there for me
Now there is no doubt that there will always be

An angel in my heart

Finally found what I been searching for (all my life)
It was right before my eyes

Oh, you are my one and only angel
I know you'll always be there
You are my one and only angel, Angel

To finally find at what I could never see
You were there for me
Now there is no doubt that there will always be
An angel in my heart

An angel in my heart
Feels like I'm guided by a candle in the dark
It's taken all this time
To finally find out what I could never see
You were there for me
Now there is no doubt that there will always be
An angel in my heart
