I know a woman
Never knew no one like her
She said "the world's made up of angels
Beautiful and fair."

She would give you anything
Give it all away
Just for one half moment
Believing love would stay

You're a bright light girl
Shine into his world
How you know your love is coming true
You're a bright light girl
In a disbelieving world
Now someone believes as much as you
And now you know he really loves you too

She opened up for trouble
Saw him come on strong
But when he could not meet her eyes
She thought she'd done it wrong
Each time love abused her
She would take the shame
Each time love would lose her
She would take the blame

No, you're a bright light girl
Shine into his world
Now you know your love is coming true
You're a bright light girl
In a disbelieving world
Now someone believes as much as you
And no you know he really loves you too

You never lost your magic vision
Always in your sight
Special intuition
Telling you it's gonna be alright

Oh, yeah, you're a bright light girl

Shine into this world
Now you know your love is coming true

You're a bright light girl
In a disbelieving world
Now someone believes as much as you
And how somebody really loves you too

Shine on
Shine on girl
