There I was with the old man stranded again so off I'd ran A young world crashing around me no possibilities of getting what I need He looked at me and smiled said "no, no, no, no, no child"

See the dog and butterfly
up in the air he like to fly
Dog and butterfly
Below she had to try
She roll back down to the warm soft ground laughing
she don't know why
she don't know why
Dog and butterfly

Well I stumbled upon your secret place Safe in the trees you had tears on your face Wrestling with your desires frozen strangers stealing your fires
The message hit my mind only words that I could find

See the dog and butterfly
Up in the air he like to fly
Dog and butterfly
Below she had to try

to the sky, up to the sky
Dog and butterfly

We're getting older the world's getting colder
For the life of me
I don't know the reason why Maybe it's livin' making us give in Hearts rolling in taken back on the tide We're balanced together ocean upon the sky

Another night in this strange town moonlight holding me light as down Voice of confusion inside of me no begging to go back where I'm free Feels like I'm through Then the old man's words are true

See the dog and butterfly
warm soft ground with a little tear in her eye
She had to try, she had to try
Dog and butterfly
