Heart Shed
"I'll Take Hypocrisy For 1000"

Breath again
Everything that you've become,
Suddenly you're wishing that you knew
What was coming next.

Breath again everything
That you've forgotten.
Suddenly the steps are higher
And everything that you ever loathed
Looks back at you in the mirror.

I have laid my bed in darkness.
Now where are we now
In this cycle of hypocrisy?
Now can you feel the knife
In your back?

It's war in yourself.
You have taken this too far
And there's blood in your mouth.
There's nothing that can set this any straighter.
This love will not fall to anything.

I keep tying my own noose.
I keep tying my own noose.
Breath again
Everything that you've become,
Suddenly you're wishing that you knew
What was coming next.

Breath again everything
That you've forgotten.
Suddenly the steps are higher
And everything that you ever loathed
Looks back at you in the mirror.

It's war in yourself.
You have taken this too far
And there's blood in your mouth.
There's nothing that can set this any straighter.
This love will not fall to anything.

I keep tying my own noose.
I keep tying my own noose.
As I tear out your eyes
I'm reaching for the knife
In your back.
