There's something out there
And if you pay attention
It will change your life.

And if you give up your life
He will return it.
If you open up your heart
He'll let you in.

Another day burns life out of question,
Killing everything - save yourself.
He can see into your eyes.
He can see into your heart.

There's no need to cry.
The thoughts of tomorrow
In your eyes are distorted by desire.
Save yourself and send your life.
You will be a butterfly.
It's supposed to be difficult.
You will be a butterfly.

There's no need to cry.
The thoughts of tomorrow
In your eyes are distorted by desire.
Save yourself and send your life.

And if you can't take this any longer
He will break your bonds to life
And let you in.
And give you the will to live.
Can you hear the world
Calling you back?
