I was payin the lady at the corner store
When the boys caught my ear
The old man spoke and I heard him say
Son, come over here
He said if you could meet anyone in the world
Who would it be?
I sat down and started to think
While the old man stared at me

I said theres many people I'd like to meet
Ball players and movie stars
Nascar drivers and millionares
And legends on guitars
But I took your picture out of my pocket
To show the old man
And I said sir I've already met her
And put your picture in his hand

Chorus:
I've already met that special someone
I swear that to be true
You're the one I've always dreamed of
The one that I run too
And there's no else in the whole wide world
That makes me feel the way you do
I've already met that special someone
That special someone's you (repeat)

its you..oh its you
that special someones you
