I wrote you this song for your ears and only yours I wrote you this song to say i love you so and show you how there's no single doubt i cant live without you

Here's a lullaby to remember me by and to help you try to fall asleep at night knowing that im here by your side

I know I havent been the best I know sometimes im like the rest but baby youll see there's more to me because i would run a million miles just to see a great big smile coming from you and you know its true I wish that i could be right there with your big brown eyes and your long brown hair i miss you so you dont even know and i know sometimes its dark and cold and one day these words will be so old but my love for you will be so young like the day we met when it just begun

Here's a lullaby to remember me by
and to help you try to fall asleep at night
knowing that im here by your side

Hush now angel not another word sleep now dont cry because your in my thoughts and heart tonight

Here's a lullaby to remember me by
and to help you try to fall asleep at night knowing that i will be by your side I promise that im here by your side girl
