Thousands of lights burning like embers
Smoke in the sky darker than ever
I've never be so uninterested
Than when I'm up here with you

The stars can't do this justice no comet that flies by
Will ever match the flare and warmth in your eyes
The brightest star was right here in my arms

I'll hold tight try to remember
That Love's not a night Love is forever
I've never been so damn sure of it
Than when I'm up here with you

The stars can't do this justice no comet that flies by
Will ever match the flare and warmth in your eyes
The brightest star was right here in my arms

We're standing here and the night's so clear and the whole world seems to disappear
