She brushes birds' nests from her tresses
Cross-legged upon the cold floor
She smiles at me when I offer to help
I feel like we've been here before

Laughing at death
Screaming at fate
Sharing with friends
And it's never too late

Chorus:
We are old souls with new faces
Once more we're together again
A turn of the wheel puts us in different places
Knowing each other since I don't know when
Our love still as strong as it ever was then

Stretched out on the beds, our hearts open,
Talking 'til night is no more
Fading to sleep as dawn beckons us onward
I feel like we've been here before

Shining with life
Thinking as one
Healing old wounds
And we're bright as the sun

(Chorus)

We walk hand in hand in the moonlight,
The world is a place we ignore
Living together in dreams of our own
I feel like we've been here before

Shiv'ring with fear
Burning above
Blood of the clan
And the spirit of love

(Chorus) x2
